Dear Members of the Admissions Committee,

I am writing to offer my strong recommendation for Mr PARHAM GOLMOHAMMADI in support of his application to the Postgraduate MSc programme in Financial Technology at UCL. I have had the pleasure of supervising and closely observing Parham during his undergraduate studies in the BSc (Hons) Computer Science (Full-Time) programme, which he began on September 25, 2023, and is expected to complete on May 8, 2026, with an anticipated classification of First-Class Honours degree.

Throughout the programme, Parham demonstrated strong academic commitment and a strong appetite for independent problem-solving and self-development. Such qualities are required for postgraduate studies. Parham's courseworks demonstrated a deep understanding of advanced computing concepts. He distinguished himself by his ability to digest theoretical material and apply it effectively in practical settings.

Parham's BSc final project is particularly noteworthy. He is currently approaching his project with methodological rigour for both the technical and the theoretical dimensions. His analytical skills, combined with his ability to communicate findings clearly and coherently, often result in high-quality work of a very good standard. Through observations, his performance throughout his undergraduate programme confirms his readiness to progress to postgraduate studies.

Beyond his academic strengths, Parham consistently exhibited professionalism, strong work ethics, and a supportive attitude. He blends well with class peers, also demonstrates resilience when faced with challenging problems, and exhibits the skills needed to pursue a master's degree. These qualities, paired with his solid technical knowledge, make him an ideal candidate to advance his studies in your MSc Financial Technology.

I am confident that Parham will be a high achiever in your programme at UCL. I offer him my highest recommendation and my best wishes for the future.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you require any further information.

Yours sincerely,
Dr Mahmoud Aldraimli
